Enhancing Multidisciplinary Responses to Polyvictimization

is a nationwide training initiative. The goal of the project is to disseminate effective trauma-informed practices to mental health professionals and to the broader systems of care serving those affected by exposure to multiple types of trauma. The webinar provides recommendations to professionals working in clinics, schools, youth programs, faith-based organizations, the judicial system, and a wide range of government agencies, thereby helping to overcome disparities in access to best-practice assessment and treatment.
