

Instructions for updating the Psychological Trauma Assessment Packet

About this Update

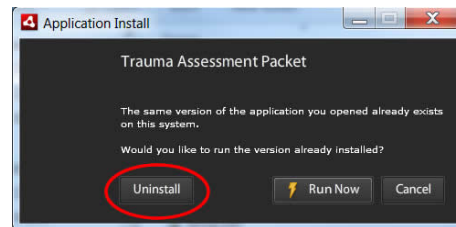

This update for the Psychological Trauma Assessment Packet fixes a computation error on the PTSD score sheet for the Overall PTSD Symptoms, Total Symptom Category Score. It also updates the documentation found in the about the Trauma Assessment Packet section of the software.

Installing the Update

Make sure that you have successfully installed the software that is found on the CD. This will install the adobe air software needed to run the program, and enable the copy protection system which is needed to run the software.

After you have successfully installed the software from the CD, download and save the file INSTALL_Trauma_Assessment_Packet_2_0.exe. Next browse to the file you have saved on your computer and double click it to run the program.

A window will open informing you that an application with the same name already exists on your system. Select the Uninstall button. This will remove the old version of the program. This will not remove any client files that you have created in the old version. Those client files will remain available in the updated version of the software.

The window will inform you when the uninstall is complete, select finish. Next, double click on the file, INSTALL_Trauma_Assessment_Packet_2_0.exe, a second time to install the updated version of the software.

Once the installation is complete you will be able to run the software and access any old client files and assessments you had created. The update will correct the scoring error in these assessments. You will also be able to create new client files and complete new assessments. You will continue to need the CD in order to run the updated version of the software.
